

50 STARS TO WATCH

Name: Alick Kerr
From: Bothwell, near Glasgow
Age: 19

You didn't know: When he's not driving rally cars Kerr works in a foundry.

In 2007 he: Won the 1.9 section of the 205 Ecosse Challenge.

In 2008 he wants to: Graduate to the Fiesta Sporting Trophy UK

Reason he is on the list: Dominated his class in the 205 series, taking the title with three rounds still to run. Renowned as a smooth driver, Kerr prides himself on his ability to avoid mistakes. Also won the Jeremy Easson Scholarship for young Scottish drivers, which carried a first prize of a free Tour of Mull entry and a trip to John Haugland's winter rally school in Norway.

Kerr says: "I've got to go for wins. There's no point otherwise. We've got the car and the programme in place: what we need now is the sponsorship. But we've had the same backer for the last three years who is hopefully going to carry on this year."
