

MOTORRACING

■ Mike Faulkner is aiming to make it two in a row on tomorrow's Station Garage Mitsubishi Granite City Rally.

Faulkner, who won the race last year, has vowed to "come out fighting" on round three of the Hankook MSA Scottish Rally Championship after car problems put paid to his challenge on last month's Border Counties second round.

"Our victory there last year was undoubtedly one of the highlights of our season," Faulkner said. "To win again is all co-driver Peter Foy and I are focused on. If it comes off, it will be beyond what we ever thought was possible."

Faulkner will face stiff competition from the Snowman Rally winner Jock Armstrong, the Scottish champion David Bogie and points leader Alick Kerr.